The intended product our group is responsible for, is to redesign the Algonquin College Interactive Media Design webpage. This page is intended to convey information about the Interactive Media Design course and give more insight into the courses and teachers in charge of the courses. It aims to get future students interested in the program as well as give current students more information on their program.

We have broken our team up into different roles:

- Team Lead – Josh Schell
- Lead Designers – Celine Eido, Sabrina Rowland-Coté
- Lead Coder – Shane Kirkham
- Lead Content Creator – Brianna Brookes

Our team communication consists of:

- Facebook Messenger – This we will use for general communications and plan any meetings
- Github Issues- This will be used to delegate work and keep track of everyone's time and effort
- Meetings – We will have meetings every Tuesday at 11am to discuss any issues and have weekly progress reports
